FAQ - Learning Center Assessments

What are these assessments made of?

The questions contained in these assessments are derived from the different LC chapters' contents mainly, and are displayed in a random order. Question types are: single and multiple choice, short text field questions and image selection.

Where should I start?

We strongly recommend to study the previous free chapters of this Unit (available for free at <http://www.fxstreet.com/education/learning-center>), as well as the extra content module of the Practice Chapter before going to the assessments. Significant portion of the questions directly comes from the current UNIT A contents.

Where do I find the answers to the assessments?

In order to answer some questions properly, you will have to check the Learning Center contents, check financial price charts, and research third party sources.

In which order should I take the assessments?

You can take the assessment related to the chapter you wish, in any order. There is no obligation to take first chapter 1 assessment, then 2, then 3 and finally 4. Just up to you. Though it is recommended to do them in that order as it's the logical order of our educational program.

How many times can I do the assessment?

There is one exam per chapter and you can do each exam 5 times (regardless of the result, approved or not).

That being said, you can stop the questions of an assessment and resume it later. And there is no time limit while you're answering a question: it means you can take your time to answer it – check the theory, navigate on the website to find the answer etc (see below).

Do I have to do all the questions of a assessment at a time?

There is no need to answer all the questions in one session. The system saves all the answers and allows you to proceed at the same point where you interrupted the assessment the last time. Every time you answer one question, the answer is automatically recorded. The assessment can be interrupted as many times as you wish, so you can take your time to take it fully. In fact, we recommend you to take the exam in several portions of time so your concentration quality is optimal.

How do I stop the questions of an assessment?

There is no button to "stop" the test. By leaving the page, closing your browser or clicking on the "back" link at the top of any page, all the answers you already gave are saved. Next time you enter the assessment, by clicking on the "Continue" button when entering it, you will resume just where you left the test.

What is the "Continue" button for?

If you haven't finished answering all the questions of an assessment last time you logged in, you can decide to continue the assessment and you will resume at the point you arrived to before.

What is the "Restart" button for?

If you haven't finished answering all the questions of an assessment last time you logged in, you can decide to retake the whole exam instead of continuing from where you stop the last time. You can restart the test 3 times in total. After three tries it will not be possible to do the assessment again. You can see below how many tries are left.

How much time do I have to take the assessments?

The time limit validity for the assessment is maximum one year after the purchase of the Practice Chapter.

When and where can I check the correct answers?

Answers are provided at the end of the assessment of each chapter. They will appear right after you answer the last question of the test, with detailed explanation of the correct answer, hyperlinks and references. Consider this as additional knowledge.

You can not check the right answers before finishing the full assessment of each chapter.

What result do I need to pass the assessment?

The passing score is set to 60% and it's for your orientation only. This is not an official exam and FXstreet.com does not deliver any certificate.
